ORGANIZATIONAL GOVERNANCE

MONITORING:

Monitoring and evaluation form the basis for modification of interventions and assessing the quality of activities being conducted. MAPWO usually performs M&E as an obligatory mechanism for the implementation of its project; MAPWO performs monitoring of its projects regularly that include finding facts regarding projects progress the results of which is being generated in the form of both, qualitative and quantitative reports and data, and facts and figures of the progress. The monitoring is usually taking place on two levels A-Managerially and B-Technically.

Monitoring takes place in accordance with the requirements measuring the achievements according to the set indicators and benchmarks against the objectives stated in the project document and proposal for achieving the following results:

- For measuring the effectiveness of the project necessary and required facts and data be collected monthly on how many people are involved and/or benefited from the program/project and how they find the project progress (this will indicate the effectiveness of the project).
- For finding the efficiency of the project necessary facts and data are being collected regarding the resources used for the progress made during a certain period of time (this indicates the efficiency of the program).
- What changes have happened in the quality of life of the targeted beneficiaries and what positive changes have occurred in the attitude of the community at large (this indicates the impact of the program and change of attitude).

Monitoring on a technical level will be taking place by the project key staff. The tool for this kind of monitoring will be the curriculum and production methodology, measuring the indicators and other benchmarks.

The monitoring process must answer WH questions.

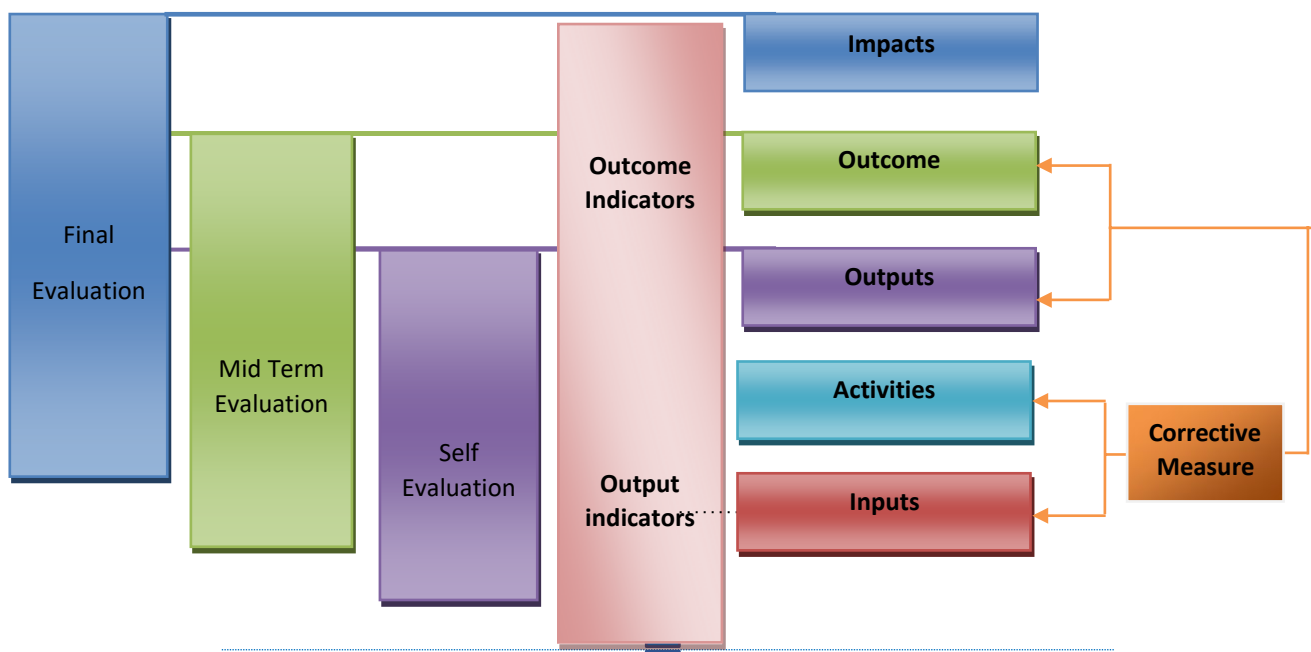

EVALUATION:

Evaluation as monitoring will be taking place as a systematic and independent examination of the project, to determine its efficiency, effectiveness, impact, sustainability, and relevance in the light of its objectives.

MAPWO will not only consider the process of the project but would also evaluate the outcome/output against the input.

- Self-evaluations
- Midterm evaluations
- Final evaluation

MAPWO evaluation process is explained in the following chart explaining the sequence.

AUDIT AND INDEPENDENT ASSESSMENTS

MAPWO is audited by its independent internal audit team, external Audit teams as well as open to take full responsibility to provide opportunities to donor agencies, grant managers and TPMs and other concerned parties and audit team, communities, local authorities, and partner organizations to conduct independent and joint evaluation and audit of our interventions at all levels. MAPWO has been assessed and audited by UNICEF HACT team, UNESCO TPM, WB TPM, ADB TPM, UNICEF Audit teams in the past 2 years and has successfully managed to pass all the assessments and scored high and average in all these assessments. MAPWO has also been assessed for PSEA (Prevention and Sexual Exploitation and Abuse) measurements, Mechanisms, GRM, and Policies and successfully managed to score medium in the assessment. The assessments are all available in UNPP portal of UN.

GENDER RESPONSIVENESS:

Gender responsiveness and safeguarding have been one of the key organizational and programmatic priorities of MAPWO. Our comprehensive Gender Equity Policy and Safeguarding Policy includes a Staff Code of Conduct (which contains a "Speak Up" Policy & Procedure), guidelines on adapting programs to be gender-responsive, gender equity and safeguarding principles and guidelines for both staff and beneficiaries, and a range of other policies, such as anti-bribery and corruption, anti-fraud, financial management, etc. The Child Safeguarding Policy (CSG) specifically reflects MAPWO's commitment to keep children safe, ensure that we "do no harm", and meet the responsibilities set out in the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.

Many of the processes and commitments in MAPWO's Gender Equity and Safeguarding guidelines speak directly to our commitments to affected population approach AAP, particularly our commitment to the equitable, inclusive representation of marginalized groups and mainstreaming gender and safeguarding programmatically and operationally. MAPWO's adapted procedures and programs have integrated safeguarding, gender, and COVID-19 prevention guidelines. MAPWO's strategy for recruiting more female employees and field staff is our top priority. MAPWO's approach ensures that our programming is always context-specific, responsive to identified needs and gaps, and ensures equitable access to activities.

REPORTING:

MAPWO has got a dedicated reporting team and department who report to donors and stakeholders on monthly, quarterly, and annual intervals and/or as per the requirements and given guidelines and schedule of the donor. MAPWO maintains and generates both, qualitative and quantitative reports being in soft or hard form. MAPWO database of necessary information based on the requirements as well as importance of the information/data and/or project.

FINANCIAL CONTROL

MAPWO maintains a very transparent financial and accounting procedure with very well-designed administrative regulations which is the standard for NGOs.

MAPWO maintains the normal NPO (Non-Profit Organization) Double Entry accounting system with Cash Book, Bank Book, Ledger, Journal, Vouchers bookkeeping procedures where every single transaction is being recorded and tracked very accurately, with all necessary supporting documentation maintained.

MAPWO also possesses an internal controlling mechanism for better transparency and accountability for instance to ensure transparency in the financial system, MAPWO management has a local contract committee for Services and Procurements. The committee has 5 members with the following Designations.

1. Operation Director (head)
 2. Program Director - member.
 3. Sr. Finance Officer- member
 4. Admin Officer - member
 5. Logistic Officer (non-voting member)
1. the committee members are normally selected for 6 months (but some time duration depends on Projects duration as well)
 2. The committee is responsible for ensuring that the procurements of goods or services are adhering to the internal financial and procurement rules.

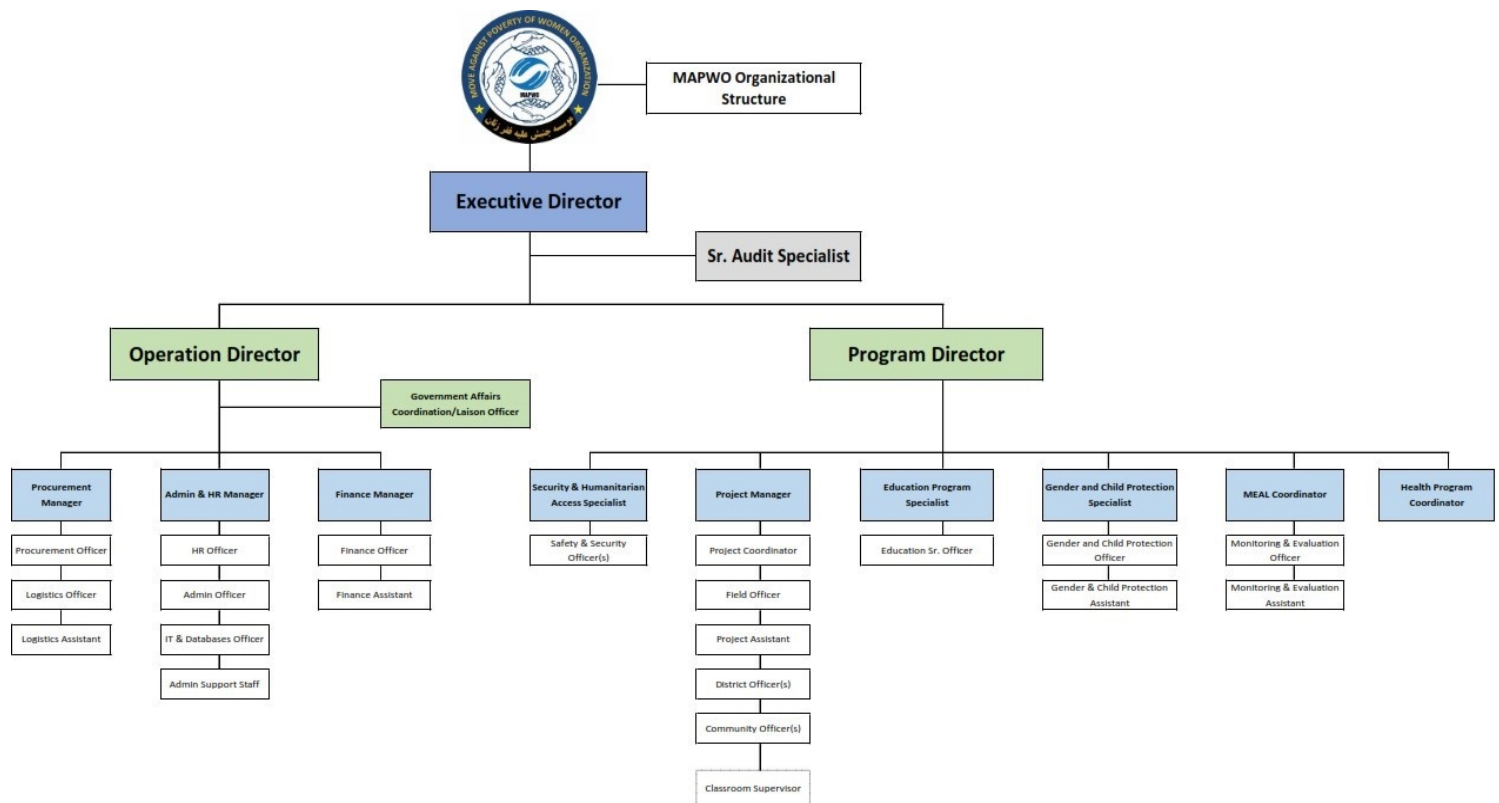

INSTITUTIONAL CAPACITY AND ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE:

As an Organization, MAPWO is filled with a team of great visionary, technical, operational, and leadership skills to implement complex projects with limited resources and meet tight deadlines. Moreover, we have all our administrative, guiding, and ruling documents including policies, operation manuals, and strategies, financial guidelines, audited reports, and legal documents, all prepared with world standards.

Led by the Executive Director, MAPWO has sub-sections of Program, Operation each managed by section Director. Every section has its own sub departments, policies, and manual and guiding document in the light of which they manage their operation and activities transparently.

Under the leadership of the Executive Director, the team meets regularly to review the projects and programs progress, potential risks, and mitigation measures from each section. However, the section leads meet on weekly basis to discuss the progress vs the operational plan in the light of donor/grant agents' guidelines and prepare a brief for the monthly meeting. The main focus of our teams is to deliver the best quality of services to our beneficiaries in the field that is on time, and in line with the budget.

MAPWO's vibrant and initiative-taking team go prepared, organized, and well equipped to give a presentation to donor/grant agents and peer organizations to demonstrate and defend the progress of our work.
